Dear

This Tax Organizer is designed to help you gather the tax information needed to prepare your 2022 personal income tax return. To help you complete the Organizer you will find certain information from your 2021 personal income tax return. To protect your privacy, your Tax Organizer contains masked data displayed as asterisks (e.g. Social Security number could display as --6789). If you would like to confirm the masked data or make a change to your data, please contact this office.

It is VERY IMPORTANT that we have your current personal e-mail address (both emails for joint returns) in order for us to effectively communicate with our clients. Notices about important tax changes, reminders and filing confirmations are emailed. Emails will not contain any personal identifying information. E-Signature for completed tax returns is available for clients with active portals and complete email information (joint returns require two unique emails). If you do not have a Client Portal, please call our office so we can set you up with one.

Also, we ask that you please have all your material to us, even if you haven't received your K-1 forms, by March 17th. Tax packets received AFTER Friday, March 17th will be put on Extension.

Enter 2022 information on the Tax Organizer pages provided. If any information does not apply to you or is incorrect, please draw a line through it or make the necessary corrections.

The Client Questionnaire asks about pertinent tax items necessary for preparing the most accurate tax return possible. Please answer all questions and attach a statement when necessary for additional information not provided in the Client Organizer.

You also will need to provide the following information:

- Forms W-2 for wages, salaries and tips.
- All Forms 1099 for interest, dividends, retirement, miscellaneous income, unemployment compensation, nonemployee compensation, Social Security, state or local refunds, gambling winnings, etc.

Like all providers of personal financial services, tax professionals are required by law to inform clients of their policies regarding privacy of client information. Our firm continues to adhere to professional standards of confidentiality that are even more stringent than those required by law. We have always protected the security and privacy of your personal and financial information.

Types of Nonpublic Personal Information We Collect

The only nonpublic personal information we collect is provided to us by you or obtained with your authorization.

Parties to Whom We Disclose Information

We do not disclose any nonpublic personal information obtained in the course of our practice except as required or permitted by law. Permitted disclosures may include providing information to our employees, or, in limited situations, to unrelated third parties who need that information to assist us in serving you. In all situations, we stress the confidential nature of the information being shared.

Protecting the Confidentiality and Security of Clients' Information

We retain records relating to our professional services to better serve your professional needs and, in some cases, to comply with professional guidelines. In order to protect your nonpublic personal information, we maintain physical, electronic, and procedural safeguards that comply with our professional standards.

The IRS doesn't initiate contact with taxpayers by email, phone, text messages or social media channels to request personal or financial information. This includes requests for PIN numbers, passwords or similar access information for credit cards, banks or other financial accounts. Phishing is a scam typically carried out through unsolicited email and/or websites that pose as legitimate sites and lure unsuspecting victims to provide personal and financial information. If you receive such an email from the IRS, forward the email as-is to phishing@irs.gov. Please do not respond to the email unless the email request you send to the IRS has been verified as legitimate. You may also contact our office regarding any correspondence, written or electronic, that you receive from the IRS.

Thank you for the opportunity to serve you.

Sincerely,
Borgida & Company, P.C.
